ABOUT STEVEN DIAMOND

Steven Diamond is the founder of Lumovex and DiamondAI Media Group and one of the most recognized faces in AI-native media production. He is known to 250+ million Netflix viewers from Tiger King: The Doc Antle Story.

With 25 years producing multimillion-dollar advertising campaigns for global brands, Steven has architected proprietary AI-native production pipelines that merge generative AI with studio-grade workflows. He is not theorizing about the future of content. He is building it, right now, with a team of real Hollywood talent.

His personal story is as compelling as his professional one. Steven has survived four cancer battles, a near-death experience, cult indoctrination, transforming every experience into frameworks, businesses, and a movement at the intersection of human storytelling and machine intelligence.
